

Join a Leader in Mobile Telecommunications Software

Thrive in an environment where your ideas can become global product innovations.

Smith Micro Software, Inc., develops and markets mobile software products and services and an extensive line of PC software products for business & home markets. Bringing together innovative solutions from mobile connectivity to managing media content mobility to advancing mobile software management, Smith Micro products enrich the experience people have with their computer systems, mobile devices and wireless networks. Our knowledge spans 25 years of design, creation and engineering for hardware and software products, and we have shipped over 100 million copies of our QuickLink family of products to our customers worldwide.

Headquartered in Southern California, Smith Micro operates offices throughout North America as well as maintaining an international presence in Europe and Asia. Smith Micro's complete lines of products are available through leading mobile operators, device and PC manufacturers, national retail storefronts and direct from its websites.

We are looking for:

Software Engineer

Position Location: Belgrade, Serbia

Overview/Role: The ideal candidate is a self-motivated individual with a solid understanding of software engineering practices and all aspects of software lifecycle and architectural design.

The candidate should have strong experiences in database design and architecture.

Used DBMS modeling tools and knows SQL, PL/SQL performance tuning and the best database practices. A comprehensive knowledge of and extensive experience with the relational and dimensional data models and DB design is required.

Key responsibilities:

- Design, develop, deploy, maintain code for Oracle, MySQL databases
- Participate in design of scalable server/cloud services that perform million transactions/day
- Working on the daily basis with J2EE development team
- Working with data-warehouse type of projects

Experience/Skills requirements:

- Minimum of 7+ years of experience developing and maintaining SQL and PL/SQL code on Oracle 10g, 11g
- Experienced with Linux Environment
- Understanding of Database deployment architectures
- Excellent understanding of relational and dimensional data models and DB design
- Demonstrated experience in working through large production environment deployments
- Strong analytical skills
- Specific experience with agile, XP, & RAD methodologies and Business process modeling (UML, etc.)

Preferred Skills:

- Experience with other DBMSs like MySQL, mongoDB and other open source DBMS projects
- Working knowledge of MySQL and/or SQL Server
- Experience in Web/Java development

Education required:

- Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science or Engineering

If you are interested in this role, please visit our website at <http://careers-smithmicro.icims.com> (requisition number: 2011-1422) and submit your information.

Smith Micro Software, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Deadline for applications: 27 May 2011

Smith Micro is diverse, profitable, and growing. Discover career opportunities in a fast-paced tech environment.

View all openings and apply to join our team at careers.smithmicro.com

SMITHMICRO
S O F T W A R E